"In your life, I hope you, too, will have good the fortune to be sheltered, encouraged and humbled by chance encounters with humanity, that let you see your place in this world through different eyes," Zahn told the graduates.